SAN PABLO APPOINTS CHARLES CHING AS NEW ASSISTANT TO THE CITY MANAGER – ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT

(San Pablo, CA) The City of San Pablo has extended an official offer of employment to Mr. Charles Ching, as their new Assistant to the City Manager in charge of Economic Development Programs assigned to the City Manager's Office.

"After an extensive and exhaustive search, I am pleased to announce Mr. Charles Ching as this City's new Assistant to the City Manager. This is a new Division-level management position in charge of the City's economic development programs. Mr. Ching will be instrumental in the development of a new economic development plan; handle in-fill development projects, and post-redevelopment functions in the City Manager's Office; and will interface with our San Pablo Economic Development Corporation on developing public projects in the City," stated Rodriguez.

Ching grew up in the Phillipines, and attended De La Salle University, earning two (2) Bachelor of Science degrees in Applied Economics and Commerce in 2000. In 2009, he earned a Masters' Degree in Business Administration (MBA) from St. Mary's College of California in Moraga, CA. Mr. Ching brings extensive experience in local economic development where he currently serves as Senior Economic Development Project Manager with the City of Fairfield, CA (pop. 110,000), with prior experience in the banking/finance industry with US Bank Corporation, and as a former President/Executive of a international corporation in the Phillipines.

Ching' official start date with the City of San Pablo is June 26, 2014. His annual starting base salary is $113,700 per year. Mr. Ching is married and has a young son, and he and his family currently reside in Vallejo, CA.
